

Being a Good Steward with Our Time

This is one of the easiest things to manage if we do it God's way.

"For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts." Isaiah 55:9

"Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil." Proverbs 3:5-7

God's word teaches us that we can never begin to have the thoughts that are even in the same league as God's. We must trust him with all of our being, even our mind. We must seek Him in all we do so He can direct our path. To do anything else is us being wise in our own eyes and this is evil according to God's Word.

We will be good stewards of our time if we allow God to direct our paths every moment of the day. We will find we use less time in trying to figure things out, having to do things over because it didn't work and doing things less efficiently.

Some of you may read this and think to yourself, yes, that sounds quite simple but how am I suppose have Him direct my path when He doesn't tell me what to do...

Aaah, that can be a problem. But we can have daily, if not constant communion with God. We first have to learn to listen to His voice. For many of us reading this we have so long ignored God's voice we have no idea what it sounds like, when He does speak. I would like to suggest to you the same advise I received many years ago. "I'd rather error on believing."

Read your bible; really get to know your creator, if the voice or strong feeling you hear/receive tells you to do something that goes against God's Word, it's not the Holy Spirit speaking to you. So don't do it. But if what you receive doesn't go against God's Word, do it. You will eventually learn to hear the voice of God. Error on believing! This does not mean you won't make some mistakes, you will, but error on believing and learn to walk in communion with God.
